

Looking for new ways to manage your employer's health care plan?

Team up with other employers in north central Wisconsin. Join the Northcentral Employers Healthcare Alliance.

Your link to better health care management.

Working together to control employer health care costs

The Northcentral Employers Healthcare Alliance (NEHA) is a member-owned group of employers in north central Wisconsin with two common goals: improving employee health and controlling the rising costs of health care. All NEHA member companies maintain self-funded health insurance programs and benefit from advantageous medical provider contracts, group discussions and professional health care management services. If you are a business, school district or other government entity providing health care benefits to 50 or more employees, we invite you to become a member of NEHA.

NEHA

Northcentral Employers
Healthcare Alliance

Your link to better health care management.

Our strength is in our numbers...

The Northcentral Employers Healthcare Alliance (NEHA) has been very successful in reducing health care costs for self-funded employers since 1997. Today, NEHA's membership includes more than 30 employers with more than 35,000 covered lives. In addition to leveraging group purchasing power, membership in NEHA can help employers:

- increase access to more options for comprehensive care
- help improve group health plan administration
- better manage pharmacy benefits and other medical expenses
- obtain valuable data to enhance employer benefit design planning
- learn more about market-relevant health care issues and future cost management strategies

NEHA Board of Directors Front Row: Nancy Kaiser, Jamie Allar, Kristi Kordus, Donna Staples. Back Row: Jay Zastrow and Mike Tomsyck. Missing: Linda-Britten Smith

Find more information at www.employershealthcarealliance.org or www.nehawi.org

Contact your broker, agent or benefit consultant for more information about NEHA and how to join.

